

Trend Micro Comments on Media Report about M&A

TOKYO, Japan, September 9, 2010 -- Earlier today, reports concerning M&A of Trend Micro Corporation were published within certain media. However, no such official announcement has been issued by Trend Micro, and as of today, no specific buy out offer has been received by us.

Our CEO comments were related to our basic stance on takeover prevention tactics as far as being a target for acquisitions is concerned – and did not in any way state that we were considering an offer to be acquired.
