2. Reason for of cash dividend for FY2017

We intend to continue to return profits to shareholders based on our net profits on a consolidated basis while striving to enhance financial strength and secure inner reserves in order to deal with the significantly changing business environment and maintain a competitive edge against competitors.

Our basic policy on dividends has been set as 70% of net income attributable to owners of the parent.

As pertains to our purchase of the TippingPoint business in 2016, this acquisition’s related amortization has started to be booked. According to such a background, to avoid the dividend payout being affected by this non-cash charge, we plan to pay the year-end dividend on the basis of a dividend ratio of 70% calculated after excluding the effect of after-tax impact of amortization related to purchase the TippingPoint business with a following formula.

(Reported net income attributable to owners of the parent + After-tax impact of amortization of related to purchase of the TippingPoint Business) x 70%
